2013
Happy New Year

BILL MARGARET

2012 is now history, but what a year it was! God has certainly blessed my Japanese ministry, both here and in Japan. Due to being very busy in my Japanese church services here in Springfield, I am not able to be away very much on Sundays. However, recently Bro. Hiroshi Inaba, (see picture) a Bible College student, surrendered to be a pastor in Japan. I have been giving him many opportunities to preach and teach. As my young Timothy, he takes over when I am gone. So I was able to get away to preach in mission conferences. He will be taking over in March and April when I will be preaching in Los Angeles, Hawaii and Japan. Please pray!!!

HIROSHI

I know you are wondering who that beautiful woman is in that picture. Well, that's Margaret. We have been seeing each other for over 6 years, so finally I asked her to marry me. She said "yes," so she's my fiancée. She was a very close friend of my wife Dixie who has been with the Lord since 2005. She is a wonderful Christian lady. As for the wedding...well, we haven't set a date. We are waiting on the Lord.

I want to thank you for your love, prayers and financial help during 2012. May God grant you a very soul-prosperous 2013!

Bill
